SENATOR WITEK: T-w-a-i-n?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Yes.

SENATOR WITEK: Never the twain shall meet?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay, and what are all three of them?

SENATOR WITEK: To, two, twain? (Laugh.)

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And I'll teach you how to spell locomotive tomorrow. (Laughter.)

SENATOR WITEK: (Laugh.) Thank you, Senator.

SPEAKER WITHEM PRESIDING

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Mr. President, members of the body, just a couple of comments. You know I think Senator Schimek said that Nickerson has only had electricity for five years, they're ready for cable. But I want you to know one thing, there's not another senator in the State of Nebraska that has a big sign that says, The Home of Senator Ray Janssen, I want you to know that. As you go across Highway 91, this big sign just blares out at you. I'll bet there isn't any one. I'll bet even Senator Hall doesn't have one of those down in south Omaha where they recognize him. So he may not have electricity, may not have cable, but he's got a sign, so just a couple comments. I wonder, the "MacLehrer/Neil" (sic) report, it's a good news program, but there are a lot of good news programs. I can't remember what it was, but the cost that they pay those individuals, and it's a tremendous amount of money, and I don't know Louie Rukizer (phonetic) has been there with his white hair for several years. I bet Louie does that free, I'll bet you a buck Louie gets on there and he gets all these big wigs on stocks and bonds, you know, and the markets and talks about the, you know, how the markets are going up and down. And then our own Dick Cavett is on there, and we're saying we can't get this any other place? I don't know, do any of you have CNBC, which is...I think it costs you ten bucks on my cable thing. All day long it has about the markets, and then you say, well, we don't have anything else. You ever watch the Discovery Channel? Or do you ever watch A&E? Tremendous, tremendous program. I'm not
